

MC SPEECH

Grand Slam Competition: MILT Alumni Meeting

(Prasiddhi)

Christmas is a magical time of the year. Beautiful lights, decorated trees, The sweet smell of plum-cake! As soon as you feel a slight chill in the air, the eager wait for Christmas begins. It's a wholesome time of the year that's filled with love and joy. And if you're not into celebrating, no worries! you can always put on your coziest sweater and cuddle up to watch your favorite Christmas specials.

I'm lucky to say that I've had wonderful Christmas experiences. I get nostalgic thinking about my childhood days. Back then, my friend would invite me to sing carols with her family. We would go from door to door, harmonizing songs. They'd even send us a batch of deliciously baked cakes every year. They were a very kind family.

In my own house, putting up the Christmas tree is something that I really enjoy. Hanging up colorful ornaments and carefully wrapping the tree with lights, I'd say are some of my specialties. Secret Santa is another Christmas classic. Whether it's with friends or family, this game simply must be played. It's tradition! Nothing beats the eager anticipation of receiving gifts.

But, don't be mistaken! the Christmas spirit is not limited to just gifts and decorations. It's also about the moments you share with your loved ones. It's about coming together as a family and creating new memories. It's about laughter and joy filling the air as we sit around the dinner table. Sharing stories, exchanging gossip and indulging in delicious food is what Christmas is really about. It is the time to set aside our worries and focus on spreading love and happiness to those around us. On this note, I would like to conclude by wishing you and your family an advanced Merry Christmas!
